

FENG SHUI FOR LOVE & ROMANCE

by Sherry Lynn Brouzes
Feng Shui Practitioner

CREATE A SANCTUARY

1. Place your bed in power position. Do not align your bed with the door.
2. Remove all photos of family, children and dieties. You don't want your mother in law staring at you having intimate moments now do you?
3. Do not have a mirror directly facing your bed.
4. If you are in a couple or would like to attract a partner place objects in pairs in your bedroom. For example 2 cupids etc.
5. Place 2 sitting chairs rather than just one. Lets the universe know that you are a couple and not a single person !
6. Keep sharp corners of bureaus and night stands away from you. You can cover them with soft cloths or tapestries. This will prevent "poison arrows" directly at you which may cause headaches or stress.
7. Remove exercise equipment.

8. Remove items from under the bed and allow the Chi to flow.
9. Place lighting on a dimmer. Ambience is very conducive to romance.
10. Check artwork for scenes of violence or dark and depressing scenes. Place happy and sensuous artwork in your master bedroom.
11. Repair any broken door knobs, bureau pulls or other broken items. Keep everything in good working condition.
12. Remove dirty laundry from bedroom. Negative energy will stagnate love and romance.
13. Add happy photos of you as a couple. Memories of travels such as a honeymoon.
14. Have 2 night stands of equal size and shape. This is to maintain a sense of equality in the relationship.
14. Wooden beds are preferred in Feng Shui. Metal bed posts are a conductor of electricity and EMF's and can cause negative effect on the nervous system.
15. Place headboard behind a solid wall for support.
16. Place headboard to support your "best sleeping directions" per Classical Feng Shui and personal trigrams.

17. Remove dolls, stuffed animals and excessive pillows to maintain an adult space.
18. Use bedding of color and texture that supports your personal feng shui "elements".
19. Add red to items in the bedroom sparingly to create the "mood". Shades of pinks and earth tones are excellent in a bedroom. Relaxing pastels are best.
20. Add Rose Crystal to your bedroom. You can place a bowl of rose quartz crystals or purchase a statue of the crystal.
21. Bring in the sexual energy of animal prints and objects that mate for life as swans, cranes and wolves. This will strengthen your bond when you look at these objects. The Law of Attraction is very strong and has been proven scientifically.
22. Place flowers in the South west corner of your bedroom because it is associated with love in that direction.
23. Fresh flowers always make an everyday special and can spark up the "love" flame at anytime !!!
24. Have Fun and remember Love is energy and it is what make the world go round. Love is a gift. You deserve a beautiful bedroom that represents true love !!!

Serene Energy Feng Shui
www.sereneenergyfengshui.com